

The Review is read and appreciated by that large body of people who buy four-fifths of the goods sold in High Point--the laboring people

Vol. 12, No. 48

High Point, N. C., Thursday, Nov. 11, 1915

10 Pages

GREAT TIME

RED MEN HAVE BIG DAY

National and State Chiefs Present--Two Sessions During Day and Public Meeting at Auditorium--Cole L. Blease Principal Speaker

Saturday was a red letter day for Red Men here. The occasion was a district meeting and hundreds of visitors were present. The little red badge fluttered from the coats of many denoting that the wearer was a disciple of the "Indian" order--more commonly known as the Improved Order of Red Men.

They came from Mt. Airy, Greensboro, Burlington, Altamahaw, Lexington, Bonlee, Reidsville, Haw River, Salisbury and other towns and of course the High Point contingency helped to swell the numbers considerably.

At eleven o'clock in the morning the first session was held at which time matters considered were purely preliminary such as opening up, seating the delegates, toll call of officers, etc. The address of welcome was made by D. H. Milton of the local tribe and responded to by J. R. Brannock of Altamahaw.

The second session was convened at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The first matter claiming the attention of the body was appointment of the Finance, Resolution and Special Committees, after which reports from the various tribes were received, most of which had encouraging reports to make. Additional delegates coming in were also enrolled. Lexington was selected as the next meeting place the date being most probably Saturday March 25th, 1916.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Prophet, J. G. Copeland, Burlington; Sachem J. R. Brannock, Altamahaw; Sr. Sagamore A. C. Staley, High Point; Jr. Sagamore E. R. Brewer, Greensboro; Guard of Wigwam, J. P. Harrison; Guard of Forest J. T. Younts; Chief of Records and Keeper of Wampum, W. L. Stamey, High Point.

An important matter up for consideration and which was adopted was the assessing of each tribe so much per member per year for the support of the District meetings instead of taking up a collection each time to defray the expenses. It is not a compulsory act in the true sense but as all tribes except three voted unanimously for the proposition it is thought that the others will gladly come in on the proposition.

It developed at the meeting that Pasquotank Tribe at Elizabeth City is the largest in the state with a membership of 401; Sioux tribe of Spray next with a membership of 349. The tribe at Mt. Airy (Kwasind 45) had made the greatest percentage gain since January 1, 1915--over 200 per cent. High Point stood second in number of members at one time and now roosts for above the middle of the ladder.

At the afternoon session Great Sachem Henderson of New Bern addressed the body in a very pleasing manner. Speeches were also made by Great Sr. Sagamore Hughes, of Graham; Committeeman West, of Greensboro; Past Great Sachem Stamey, of High Point; Past Sachems Walker, of High Point, Brannock, of Altamahaw; Great Guard of Forest York, of High Point and others.

The following National and State Chiefs were present, perhaps the largest number of Great Chiefs ever visiting a District meeting:

Great Sachem D. E. Henderson, of New Bern.

Great Sr. Sagamore Heenan Hughes, of Graham.

Member of State Orphan's Board E. G. West, of Greensboro.

Great Prophet and Representative W. E. Herndon, of High Point.

Past Great Sachem and member of State Orphan's Board W. L. Stamey, of High Point.

Great Guard of Forest O. R. York, of High Point.

From out of the state were Hon. Cole L. Blease, of Columbia, S. C., member of the Legislative Committee of the Great Council of the United States, as special representative of the Great Inchoonee, who sits at the head of the nation of Red Men.

Great Sachem Clifton J. Parrot, of Danville, Va., who came to look in upon the meeting and incidentally to invite Mr. Blease to make a talk in Danville Dec. 6th which the obliging ex-Governor of the Palmetto state accepted.

Visiting Red Men were also present from Rock Hill, New Bern, Florida and other towns and states.

The afternoon session came to a close at 5:15 o'clock and the Redmen loitered around on the streets until 6 o'clock when they were invited to a magnificent spread at Redmen's headquarters here. And it was a good spread too, even if the editor happens to be a local man and has to say it--in quality and quantity sufficient for the most exacting. Mr. Henderson asked the blessing after which all hands went to it including Governor Blease who wanted to be with the boys in their feast.

Short talks were made by Messrs. Blease and Henderson after the banquet and just before the time to depart for the auditorium.

AT THE AUDITORIUM

When the hour of eight arrived a large crowd had assembled at the auditorium to hear the public exercises. Notwithstanding it was Saturday night and very few business people could leave their work the large auditorium was comfortably filled with men and women to hear the speakers. Col. D. H. Milton presided. Rev. J. M. Hilliard invoked Divine guidance. The Gurney Briggs quartette furnished the music for the occasion.

The first speaker of the evening was Hon. D. E. Henderson, of New Bern, who spoke extemporaneously on the fraternal and business side of Redmanship, etc., being introduced by D. H. Milton. Mr. Henderson made a very timely talk and received good attention by his hearers and suffice it to say that it fell on good soil.

Dallas Zollicoffer, Esq., introduced Governor Blease in a short, to the point talk.

When Mr. Blease arose he was greeted with great applause. Every one was intensely interested in the man and wanted to hear what he had to say. Those that came expecting a ribald speech were disappointed because the Governor delivered one of the most practical talks along every day life as it affected the fraternity of Red men you ever heard. It was full of ginger at times yet basked in the sunlight of beauty and gentleness. At times he would bring tears to the eyes, followed by an outburst of laughter provoked by a funny incident related. His tribute to womanhood was a gem and the ideal character he held up to the men was noteworthy. The Governor does not believe in shams--of trying to fool your fellowman when we are responsible to God alone. On every hand his speech was complimented.

Clifton J. Parrot, Great Sachem of Virginia, followed and made a very fine impression on the audience. He kept his hearers in an uproar of laughter most of the time. Mr. Parrot is an enthusiastic fraternalist and a fine fellow.

At the conclusion of his speech, Rev. J. M. Hilliard delivered the benediction.

NOTES OF MEETING

Messrs. Herndon, York, Bradner, Teetor, Kanoy, Wagner and others deserve credit for their work in behalf of the success of the meeting and the editor as chairman of the reception committee desires to return thanks for the co-operation of all, individually and collectively.

Scores of citizens shook the hands of Governor Blease while here, and wished him success, telling him they admired him for standing like a stone wall for what he thought was right regardless of what people said. The little chats the people had with Mr. Blease were enjoyable moments.

Blease has more admirers in High Point since his speech at the auditorium. The man was seen and heard in person instead of "read about" and here is where the people generally get their best impression.

Messrs. Milton, Walker, Herndon, Stamey, York and Simpson entertained the Governor at dinner at the Elwood Saturday and took him for a ride over the city Saturday morning in a new Studebaker six handed by the Central Motor Co. of this city.

Mr. Blease left on No. 29 early Sunday morning for his home in Columbia, S. C.

Will Plummer and Theodore McCorkle, two negro boys who have been stealing prominently around town were each given a six months road sentence Wednesday.

The noted Moore's Springs Property has been sold to a company which will improve it considerably.

The Guest of the Redmen Here Saturday and Who Delighted a large audience at the Auditorium that evening. "The next Governor of South Carolina" say his many friends.

OLD SOLDIERS

In Behalf of the Confederate Veterans

The Confederate Veterans of the High Point chapter are elated over the fact that permanent headquarters have been secured for them in the rooms over the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., where they can meet at any and all times--a place which they can really call their own. The first meeting will be held Saturday evening. A committee which will look after their interests, follows: Geo. T. Woods, W. W. Idol, J. L. Woodson, J. P. Rawley and W. L. Stamey. Mr. Idol is the treasurer and he will gladly accept any contributions tendered by sons and grandsons of Veterans or any well wisher of these grand old people. We cannot do too much for them, so let us do what we can now with a willingness unsurpassed in any other movement. Already scores of people have contributed to the cause. You are next!

Special Rates by Southern

On account of annual football game at Richmond, Va., Nov. 25th, round trip rates from High Point are $3.25; Asheville $4.00.

Special coach excursion to Washington, D. C., Nov. 20th. Fare from High Point $5.50. Train passes here night of Nov. 20th about nine o'clock.

Excellent chance to visit these places at low cost.

Charlie Chaplin Coming

Saturday at the Rose theatre, a four-reel Essanay picture in two different acts. See the original Chaplin in "A woman", you will roar with laughter. Three other good pictures. You always see the best at the Rose.

Sale of Stylish Millinery

Every pattern hat and also untrimmed shapes have been marked at prices for quick selling. A large assortment to choose from.

ALLEN'S DEPARTMENT STORE

25 volumes of Alexandre Dumas works for a trifle of their cost, brand new. The Queen's Necklace, the Whites and Blues, the Count of Monte Cristo, Ten Years Later, Taking the Bastille, are some of the books. See The Review at once if you want them. Will make a fine addition to your library.

The Governor Pleased

In a letter received from Governor Cole Blease Tuesday by the editor he says among other things: "I had a fine time up there and I certainly appreciate the royal entertainment given me. With kindest regards and best wishes to you and all," etc. [Our people were delighted to have the Governor and on every hand we have heard praise of the man and his speech. Editor.]

To the Roads for Cutting Scrape

Andrew Springs, colored, was given an eight month's road sentence Monday by the Recorder for severely cutting Jim Bynum at the latter's stables last week. Springs fled the city soon after the cutting and was found by Chief Gray after a search in the eastern part of Greensboro and brought back for trial.

Weekly Comics in Review

We have secured for our readers two comic series entitled "Dippy Duk" and "Those That Have--Get" which will be found in the paper each Thursday from now on and which we believe will afford some little pleasure to one and all. Watch the Review each week for a new one and see what "Dippy" pulls off as well as the stunt of "Those That Have--Get."

The 'Mum Show

The Chrysanthemum Show is being held today and tomorrow in the vacant store room, lately occupied by the Mutual Furnishing Co. on South Main street. Prizes will be awarded for pickles, preserves and jelly as well as flowers.

Half price sale on all Trimmed Hats Saturday only at Miss Venetia Smith's.

Express Agent Yost is happy over arrival of a boy at his home Monday night.

Mrs. Galt has purchased her wedding trousseau but beyond this we are not going to say.

The Daughters of Liberty will give a show sometime for the benefit of the organ fund of the St. Mary's Episcopal church.

Charlie Chaplin and three other fine pictures at the Rose Saturday

GOOD THING! ENDURANCE!

Must Have Gardening Department

This Paper Will Help Pay Expenses of Teacher in Event City Declines to Act Favorably

The Review thoroughly believes in the proposed plan of employing an all time teacher for civic beauty and home gardening for this city. We cannot measure in dollars and cents the magnitude of the work, what it will mean to the youth of High Point and consequently the coming generation in developing them to the highest point of efficiency from a business as well as a physical standpoint--encouraging that thrift and industry lying dormant and which under the proper care will develop into great possibilities. It will also mean dollars and cents to the household and much wealth to the community, a sharing in the battle of life by the children whose idle moments can be best spent in good, healthy exercise and create in them an early desire to make and save, a kind of independence that makes work a pleasure.

We verily believe the city council will act speedily on the matter. It is not so much a question of what other things we need but should we have this. If we stop to consider certain conditions we will never have anything. Let each matter take care of itself is the best plan.

The cost to the city would be only $480.00 a year more than the present expense or $40.00 a month--a mere trifle compared to the great good to be derived.

But in the event the city fails to act favorably a way should be provided and The Review is pointing out a way, viz: The editor will be one of fifty citizens who will pay the price named for such a teacher for the first year or as long as it is essential to the maintenance of such a teacher by private subscriptions.

Manager Wagner of the Broadway Announces the Appearance of Cleo Madison Friday

We beg to announce that the incomparable Cleo Madison is billed to appear at the Broadway Friday "A Mother's Atonement", A wonderful production in three parts. Miss Madison appears in this strong emotional drama, both as mother and daughter. In one strong situation the mother induces the daughter to take her first glass of wine, not knowing her identity. As the mother she appears to a handsome woman of the world; somewhat blase and hardened, but still beautiful. As the daughter she is simply "sweet sixteen" and the contrast is remarkable. It has been aptly remarked that all the world is interested in the actor's art. This is the age of the moving picture. The mission of the actor is an important one and is far reaching in its influence. It is given to him, or her, to wield with mighty power. Not alone can they amuse and entertain, but they can instruct as well. It has been truthfully said of Miss Madison, that she can dispell the gloom and shed sunshine around; she can banish sorrow and inspire hope, she can make misery flee and bring comfort in its stead, she can replace the frowns of hate by the smiles of love, she can bring the laughter of joy to the eyes that were wet with grief; she can "play the enchanter's part and cast a bliss all around" till not a sigh or aching heart in all the world is found. If any actress has done anything to make this a happier world to live in, that woman is Cleo Madison, who has played more than 12,000 roles since she became a photoplayer. Don't fail to see her at the Broadway Friday.

Silence sometimes produces the greatest results when a principle is at stake as has been evidenced here the past week. The people, after all, are free moral agents and have already spoken.

The Great "Studebaker Six" Reliability Run

The first day's run was to Charlotte and return by way of Winston-Salem, Statesville and Mooresville, a distance of 253 miles, covered in 9 hours and 11 minutes at an average speed of 27 1/2 miles per hour. The entire trip was made on high gear, with a consumption of 19 gallons of gasoline, an average of 13 1/3 miles per gallon, and three pints of lubricating oil. The extra amount of gasoline consumed was due to the high gear, and under ordinary running condition the average would have been almost 18 miles to the gallon. Absolutely no machine trouble of any kind was encountered.

Geo. F. Wilson, manager of the Central Garage was at the wheel, accompanied by Messrs. A. Lyon, W. C. Jones and J. P. Rawley.

SECOND DAY'S RUN

The second day's run was to Sanford and return by way of Asheville, Biscoe and Aberdeen and return, a distance of 251 miles, with J. G. Russell, driving, accompanied by John Lindsay; Barney Allen, of Troy and Mr. Wells, of Pine Bluff. The distance was covered at an average speed of 29 3/8 miles per hour on high gear and an average of 14 miles to the gallon of gasoline was obtained and only one quart of lubricating oil was used on the entire run which was without mishap. This was a better run than made the day before.

THIRD DAY'S RUN

The third day's run was made to Raleigh and return by Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Durham and the distance of 250 miles covered at an average speed of 25 1/2 miles per hour on high gear with an average of 12 1/2 miles to the gallon of gasoline and one quart of oil.

Nine hours and 48 minutes was the running time for trip. The car came back in the pink of condition. One puncture was reported during the trip. This trip was made under less favorable conditions than the two previous days in that the roads were bad and over 1,000 pounds of human weight was carried. F. J. Cox, of Lexington drove the car and with him were J. E. Johnson, Studebaker District representative; Mr. McCrary of the Lexington Hardware Co; Mr. Hinkle of Lexington and Mr. Thackston of the Goodrich Tire Co.

FOURTH DAY'S RUN

Today's run will be to Lynchburg, Va., by way of Danville, Va., and return and the result will be announced in next week's issue. It is a good record made by a good machine handled by good people. Hats off to the "Invincible Six Studebaker."

Trimmed Hats at half price for Saturday only at Miss Venetia Smith's. Great opportunity for you.

Rev. G. T. Rowe and J. W. Harris went to Greensboro Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Board of the Greensboro College for women.

Superior Court is in session for the trial of civil cases. "The Birth of a Nation" attracted quite a crowd of High Pointers to Greensboro.

Rev. L. A. Peeler, of the Reformed church Saturday united in marriage Miss Sallie Holbrook to A. C. Auman.

Recorder Dalton declined to grant the appeal of by Gus Brown's counsel for a reduction in the sentence of four months on the road.

D. N. Edwards was called to Farmville last night owing to the serious illness of his invalid mother who fell and broke her hip.

Special sale on hats at Allen's and a large assortment to select from.